ODLR Hosts Nationwide Partnership on Buffalo National River

The Outdoor Leadership Program alongside staff from UREC Outdoors, hosted a multi-organization Rendezvous, the name given to all River Management Society river excursions. This first-of-its-kind Rendezvous brought together students and experts from four different universities, as well as professionals from Arkansas Game and Fish, Grand River Dam Authority, and the Illinois Watershed Partnership.

Students, faculty, and professionals deepened their connections with the Buffalo National River, America's first national river, while also connecting to peers and professionals in the field, offering crucial insights into career paths within watershed management and river studies.

The experiential learning was enjoyed by students and professionals alike, with canoes, kayaks, and rafts all making the multi-day journey. The partnership will continue to be a fruitful one to support and enjoy our beautiful watersheds in Arkansas.
